Arizona Chamber to Receive Inaugural Public Policy Leader of the Year Award
Arizona Capitol Times honors Chamber with award in business category

PHOENIX — The Arizona Chamber of Commerce and Industry has been chosen by the Arizona Capitol Times as an inaugural honoree for the Leaders of the Year in Public Policy award in the category of business.

The Chamber was nominated for the award and chosen by the Arizona Capitol Times editorial board and a selected community leader. The award honors outstanding achievements, contributions and leadership in helping to advance public policy in Arizona and make the state a better place to work and live.

Governor Janet Napolitano will deliver the keynote speech at an awards luncheon to honor the 14 award recipients on Wednesday, September 26 at the Phoenix Convention Center.

“The Arizona Chamber is honored to receive this award. Our mission is to advance a policy agenda that makes Arizona a more attractive place to work and live. In the upcoming legislative session we’ll continue toward that goal by seeking pro-growth, free-market policy solutions,” said Glenn Hamer, president & CEO of the Arizona Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

The Arizona Chamber of Commerce and Industry is committed to advancing Arizona’s competitive position in the global economy by advocating free-market policies that stimulate economic growth and prosperity for all Arizonans.
